Life In Lubbock TX

On December the third we finally had the big acapella fundraising concert at Sunset Church of Christ. Some of the older members of Acapella came and sang for the concert. They were fantastic. We had a really great turnout that night, which was good to see since we have been promoting it for the last four months.

All in all, it turned out to be a great night and was a good fundraiser for the AIM program.

About three months ago, I was invited to go to Port Elizabeth, South Africa to work with a local congregation there during my summer break. After talking with some of the churches that support me, I have decided to go. I will be traveling with Dakota Brooks and Jaret Zepeda. We will be working with the Port Elizabeth church of Christ. We will be leading the college ministry there. Jaret and Dakota were Aim interns there when South Africa was one of our AIM fields, so we will be working with some of the people they know.

Midterms and finals were strange this term. Because of a schedule change we had midterms, then two weeks later we had finals. It was a little cramped with all the papers and Christmas activities we had going on, but we got through it. I'll know how I did this term at the beginning of the next term.

Christmas break has been great. Getting to see friends and family has been awesome. I wish I could have been able to see more people while I was on the eastern side of the US. I hope y'all have a great New Year.

AIM

After a month of mixing people around and praying, we have finally put the AIMers into the teams that will be going into the field. The fields this year are Miami, Alaska, Mexico City, Ireland, Honduras, and Bolivia. My brother Donnie will be going to Honduras with Hanah Backer, Hanah Griffith, and Kenan Pitman. The AIMers are very excited to finally know where they are going and who they are going with.

Since I'm an AIM assistant this year, I was able to be a part of the team selection process. It has been quite unique experiencing AIM from the other side.

Upcoming events

I am super excited about the next trip AIM is going on. This February is the Mexico City trip. This was my favorite trip while I was in AIM and I can't wait to go this year. Also, mission term will be starting for the AIMers when we get back to Lubbock.

Please be praying that the AIM class will keep an open mind and a willing heart as we get ready to start the next part of their training.

For my trip this summer to work in South Africa, I'm going to need some help with the plane ticket over there. If you would like to help, my contact info is at the bottom of this page. (For more information on what we will be doing there, check the first page or call me at the number below.)

Special thanks

I want to give a special thanks to everyone who supports me. Without you, nothing that I have been blessed to do and am doing would be possible.
